DEDICATION

"I am a part of all that I have met." As we mature, we begin to realize that what we are is just a bit of everything that we have touched and been touched by. As we venture forward in search of what we shall become, we pause to look back and ponder the path we have left behind us, the memories of everything that has been. We see that the most important part of our growth has been the people who have cared, those who have given us fragments of themselves to aid in our individual pursuits. We wish to say thank-you, and to dedicate our book, and our memories, to those special individuals who took the time to care and to become a part of our spirit."

I'm trying to find my own way

On the road of experience

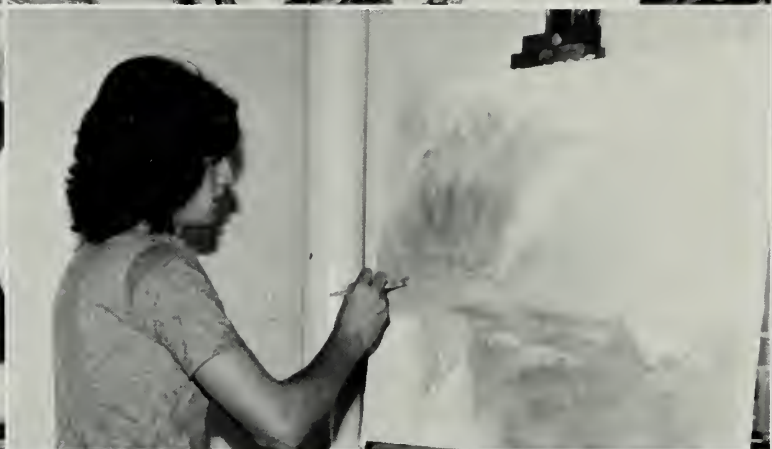

EXIT

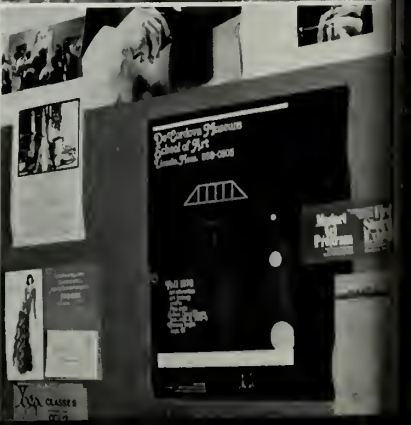

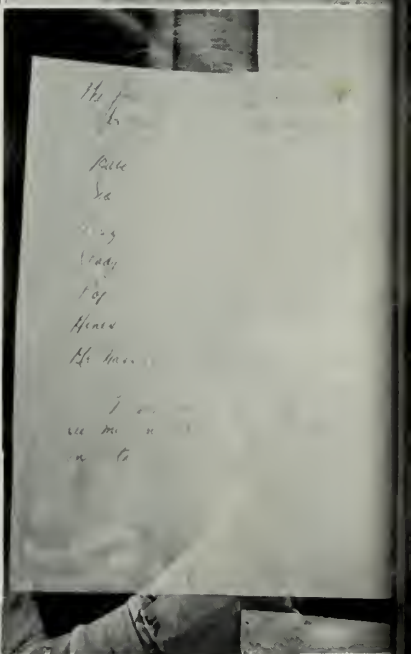

Sometimes I wish
That I could
Fly away . . .

And I'm looking for space

And to find out who I am

And I'm looking to know
And understand

Sometimes I fly like an eagle and

Sometimes I'm
Deep in despair

All alone
In the universe,

Sometimes
That's how it seems

I get lost in the sadness and the screams

Then I look
In the center
Suddenly everything's
Clear

I find myself in the sunshine
And my dreams

*"On the road of experience
I'm trying to find my own way . . ."*

The long and winding road that leads to your door will never disappear, I've seen that road before, it always leads me here, lead me to your door.

The wild and windy night that the rain washed away has left a pool of tears crying for the day, why leave me standing here, let me know the way.

Many times I've been alone and many times I've cried Anyway you'll never know the many ways I've tried But still they lead me back to the long winding road . . .

AFS STUDENT Einar Engebretsen

The AFS adventure I've had in Bedford is, without a doubt, the greatest adventure I've ever experienced. The family I have stayed with, the friends I have made, and the people I have met have given me an experience and a kind of personal knowledge which I could not have learned in a classroom. Also, I have learned a great deal about my own country while I've been here.

It has been very interesting for me to attend school at Bedford High School. This school is very different from schools I've attended in Norway. I would like to thank the staff and the students at BHS for all they have given me.

VALEDICTORIAN

John Rennie

There is a certain honor, indisputably, to being named valedictorian. Valedictorians, by their nature, are generally chosen by some standard of academic skill, and must eventually serve as the spokesmen for their classes. Frankly, I am flattered to have been named the speaker for our class, but I wonder about my credentials to do so.

If I have demonstrated some proficiency in some areas, then I am pleased to be recognized for it. But this is recognition for success in only a few spheres of ability, predominantly scholastic, and this is not a fair representation of the skills, interests, or talents of the overwhelming bulk of the class.

What of the other skills that are not being so recognized? What of the qualities that are even more important, such as leadership, creativity, responsibility? How can I speak on behalf of those who have facility in the arts or music, in prose or poetry? Where are the spokesmen for the experts in the handicrafts, carpentry, metal working, and the like? And what of those who excel in a particular field, such as math or history, language or science?

All of these areas are equally as important, and fully deserve recognition. It is essential that every individual develop whatever talents he or she possesses to his or her fullest talent. The world is faced with too many problems that require diverse abilities, differing approaches, differing viewpoints to solve them. No one person is so universally talented that he can resolve the all.

Don't look to me for the answers. You are far more likely to have them than I.

Do all the good you can,
By all the means you can,
In all the ways you can,
In all the places you can,
At all the times you can,
As long as ever you can.

If anyone should ask me
to give a reason
why I loved my friend,
there could be only one answer:
Because he was he, because I was I.

"Then I look in the center, Suddenly everything's clear . . ."

Is it so small a thing
To have enjoyed the sun,
To have lived light in the spring,
To have loved,
To have thought,
To have done?

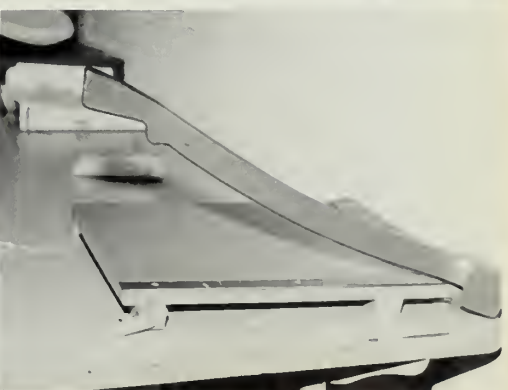

I do my thing, and you do your thing.
I am not in this world to live up to your expectations
And you are not in this world to live up to mine
You are you and I am I,
And if by chance we find each other,
it's beautiful.

As in previous years, a few dedicated individuals accepted the challenge of recording our memories for all to remember. On these two pages we honor these special people by giving them recognition for their labor. A very special thank-you must be extended to Burlington Studios for making what seemed to be impossible deadlines possible. As for Mr. McCauley's contributions, what words can possibly express our gratitude? Above all, we will remember his concern for us as individuals. One final word of gratitude for the moral encouragement received from a few individuals from tele-media, who kept us laughing rather than despairing! Perhaps this laughter best typifies the mood of our graduating class, and our Missile, 1977.
